Archbishop James cloud, how are you doing? Good, sir,

06:00

I am doing well. How are you doing?

Chris Jordan 06:02

I am doing fantastic. I'm getting ready to hop out actually tomorrow morning to the ions conference, the International Association of near death studies, I'm heading out to Salt Lake City, Utah to get some interviews from that and see what else is going on. On that front. That research is so amazing and ongoing. I'm glad to be a part of that. So that that's what's new and exciting with me. You just recently had a delivery of an individual through exorcism, how did that go?

06:40

That went great. We you know, we a lot of counseling went in to the session with the individual to really hone in on what are the what are the probable causes, origins and touch the issues going on. And through prayers, counseling, etc, you know, we put out the big fires in the property, metaphorically speaking, and now just working on getting all the little hotspots that are still mildly active doing this and that. But that's not unusual for a property exorcism. On this particular one, I did it over a video session. And that seemed to go really well. So all praise to God. And you know, the remote prayer I think is interesting. It really does show the fact that you don't have to be physically present in order to command. And that's pretty interesting. Yeah. And we let's, we need to do a whole episode on that at some point. Because there there are some really interesting concepts there to think about. When you're talking about deliverance, when you're talking about prayer to begin with, but when you're talking about specifically things like laying on of hands, and that kind of stuff to know that it can be done remotely is really remarkable.

Chris Jordan 07:39

08:26

Absolutely, you know, because with God, there is no distance in our, on our human minds. We we have this idea that, you know, it can't be done unless we're physically there. Yeah, you know, nothing can be resolved. healings can't happen or anything. But that's not the case. You know, our prayers reach heaven and with God. He's everywhere at once anyway. Yeah. So it really doesn't depend on our physical presence. Now, I wouldn't do that with a person that's possessed, because there's a lot of monitoring and other things that have to go on that, you know, just wouldn't be conducive for a video, deliverance or exorcism. But but as far as the property, it seems to work just fine. Wow. Wow.

Chris Jordan 09:16

Phenomenal. Well, and speaking of phenomenal a couple of weeks ago, every once in a while, I will see you post things on social media. And as the Spirit speaks to you, like I said, before the show started the conversation, it speaks to you to tell things and it speaks to me to have people on to tell their things. And when I started talking about the Antichrist, it was one of those. I'd probably had about two or three discussions with people recently regarding Antichrist prophecies, things like that and when you started talking about it online No. So you know, I really need to have him on to talk about that. So, let's really start I'm gonna go ahead and bring up just the definition of Antichrist on the screen. All right, but let's start kind of breaking this down a little bit. Father. Okay, exactly where does the teaching of the Antichrist come from? Is there is there a teaching, I guess, capital T teaching in the church of an antichrist, or a coming Antichrist?

10:33

Oh, absolutely. So you have to differentiate between the spirit of antichrist and then the actual Man of Sin, as the Bible calls him. The the incarnate antichrist, the the man at the end, that is called, you know, the man of sin. And so the spirit of antichrist, you can read throughout the scriptures, it talks about the spirit of antichrist, is already active in the world, and was already active in the world, at the time of the writing of the New Testament. So, in really, all Antichrist means is in place of Christ. So it's an it's an alternate version per se, that folks believe in instead of the risen Christ. It's a very secularized, a very demonic version. And it's in rebellion to the laws of God. So the Antichrist will be because he's called the man of sin, He will do everything that is against the scriptures, embracing heresies, embracing every central flavor of the modern age, and people will love him at first. But the spirit of Antichrist has been around and has permeated the church since the very beginning. So that's the differentiation between spirit of antichrist versus the Antichrist.

Chris Jordan 12:10

Okay and that I think is as you said a very important differentiation. So let's let's start

Okay, and that, I think, is, as you said, a very important differentiation. So, let's, let's start getting into then, now that we understand the difference between the spirit of the Antichrist and the physical person, Antichrist. Let's, let's start getting into some of the prophecy regarding the Antichrist in the coming of the Antichrist.

12:41

Okay, definitely. Well, the broadest picture that you can paint of the Antichrist, even though there's, you know, small snapshots of them even through the Old Testament. But the biggest picture that we can get of the Antichrist as found in Revelation chapter 13. And so would you like me to read the passage for Foley's please? Alright, so, Revelation 13, beginning with verse one. And I saw a beast rising out of the sea, with 10 horns and seven heads, with 10. Diogenes on its horns and blasphemous names on its head. And the beast that I saw was like a leopard, its feet were like a bear's and its mouth was like a lion's mouth. And to it, the dragon gave his power and his throne and great authority. One of its heads seemed to have a mortal wound, but its mortal wound was healed, and the whole earth marveled as they followed the beast. And they worshipped the dragon, for he had given his authority to the beast. And they worshipped the beast saying, Who is like the beast and who can fight against it. And the beast was given a mouth uttering haughty and blasphemous words, and it was allowed to exercise authority for 42 months, it opens its mouth to utter blasphemy against God blaspheming His name and His dwelling, that is those who dwell in heaven. And it was allowed to make war on the saints, and to overpower them. And authority was given it over every tribe and people in language and nation and all the dwell on the earth will worship it. Everyone whose name has not been written before the foundation of the world in the book of life of the Lamb who was slain. If anyone has an ear, let him hear. If anyone has to be taken captive to captivity he goes, if anyone is to be slain with a sword with a sword, he must be slain. Here's the call for the endurance and faith of the saints. So, in other chapters in Revelation as well as other snapshots, best way to describe them, of the Antichrist in the Old Testament, as well as in the Gospels and Epistles is that this, this 10, you know, 10 nations 10? Well, you can look up on the UN, the UN has currently 10 trade bloc's around the earth right now. And that is the kingdom. The reason why I say that is because the mark of the beast will be a digital ID, that, that all current fiat currency is going to be transferred into digital currency. And when the False Prophet arises, who is the sidekick of the Antichrist? So, Antichrist is the political dynamo, while the False Prophet is the spiritual dynamo, the False Prophet is the one that will do the miracles, the signs and wonders when he's next to the Antichrist to fool, basically, the secular world into believing the Antichrist is God. And so, but what the False Prophet puts forth is the mark of the beast. And we'll read that and then the next chunk, that, you know, he causes all small, you know, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to have this mark. Interestingly enough, the World Economic Forum, the Davos group, and pretty much every country on the face of the earth right now is developing what they call a cbdc, a central bank, digital currency. And President Biden, in I believe it was March of this year signed Executive Order 14067. And you can look it up, any of your listeners can look it up, that mandates the creation of a certain central bank digital currency, that will erase the need for cash, and it's supposed to go into effect in December, it could either be immediate, or it could be a phasing. But the way the language is, is that from then on, they can track everything a person buys or sells with the digital ID tied in with the digital ID. When you look at other resources. And these are from government sources. This is World Economic Forum. This is us.gov. You This is, you know, this isn't like some fringe website, you know that they wear tinfoil hats. So ya know,

 Chris Jordan 17:46

I'm from a law firm right now, President executive orders signaling a development of United States Central Bank, digital currency and shaping up regulations of digital assets.

 18:00

And that is exactly why they hired the 87,000 IRS agents, because of this digital currency that's going to go into effect, they'll need the extra eyes and hands on deck, to monitor all the microtransactions that are going on with every person in the United States. physical cash will be phased out, and I guarantee there'll be some little blurb about well, you know, physical cash you can get, get a virus and blah, blah, blah. And, you know, they'll frame it. I mean, Klaus Schwab, head of the World Economic Forum tries to frame their, their development currently, and agenda 2030 into a one world government. The, you know, they want all nations to submit to unelected officials that will govern and through a corporation structure basically, because when he uses the term stakeholders, what he's actually meaning is corporations. And you can go on the World Economic Forum, you can look up Klaus Schwab, the fourth industrial revolution, the great reset, you know, and what's funny with the great reset is Facebook and other things. Wikipedia will say, Oh, this is a conspiracy theory that No, it's not a friggin conspiracy theory if it's coming straight from the horse's mouth. So you can see the, the already the obfuscation the sidelining the little pooling of anyone that brings all of this information to the forefront, you know, all their friends, their tinfoil hat wearers, even though it's coming from the governments themselves and the UN, the World Economic Forum I'm Davos group BlackRock, everyone else. So this is what the False Prophet will bring forth. The Prophet. The problem is with digital ID, it will mesh, not only the currencies, but it will combine your medical information. Any other identifying information that you have put it all into basically one ID, and they frame it like this. If your child gets lost, if you know you're in an accident, and you can't, you know, you're unconscious, you can't do XYZ, or, you know, a child is kidnapped, or, I mean, they could dream up any nightmare scenario to scare people. But they'll say, Well, we can track where they're at, we'll know where they're at. At any given time, if you're unconscious, all they have to do is scan your digital ID and your medical records will come up with your insurance and everything else in mind, what is that? Just like I'm back to the future to? Yeah, find your past out in the alley, and they, they scan her palm and it tells her tells them exactly who she is and where she lives. And her palm print gets her in the front door. Everything else?

 Chris Jordan 21:06

 21:25

Yeah, well, Amazon is kind of a spear hitter into the little palm readers. They have I think it's like 65 stores already in the US. And I had some friends saying it was in Texas too. Yeah.

 Chris Jordan 21:40

Yeah, they're everything like your whole foods, whole foods. It's their is their testbed for all that right now?

21:51

Yep. Yep. And you know, people love it. It's convenient. They don't have to mess around with finding a wallet, their IDs, credit card, everything. You just stick your hand over this little scanner, and it pops everything up. What this what this stages right now is social conditioning for the mark, because it's it's phasing in all the foundational things that are 100% part of the mark. Which not saying which the club, the mark is, is very much of a window to the vampire, like you have to accept the mark.

Chris Jordan 22:25

22:34

You do. But think about this. And so they will know every transaction. I mean, you'll pay all your bills with the digital currency. So all bills will be dumped into the database, the central database go as far as that's how you will be decentralized voting will go on through that as well.

Chris Jordan 22:49

22:56

Sure, I can easily see that. Absolutely. You know, it's all combining everything into one thing. And think about this. So when push comes to shove, they'll say, Well, you know, you can't buy or sell unless you do X, Y or Z. So it's the perfect way for command and control. I've always told people, when it comes to the government of corporations, and all the hanky crap that goes on behind the scenes, it's always about command and control. How can we get the poor schmucks out on the street to do what we want? Well, if they can't buy or sell unless they behave a certain way, like China's social credit system, which is also part of the Fourth Industrial Revolution, to ensure everyone plays by the rules, if they literally own all of the money and all of the ability for you to just go down to the store and buy a soda or a candy bar. And they know how much it costs when you bought it. All they have to do a few misbehaves is just turn you off. And if there is no physical cash going on, you can't buy or sell without that mark. This is exactly what they know that I don't even have to use the Scripture at this point. This is exactly what the World Economic Forum you in Davos group and others are saying plainly, it's almost like they're just sitting there rubbing in everyone's faces going, Yeah, this is what's going to happen. And everyone's gonna do it, whether they like it or not. And these are unelected people. So yeah, here they are appointed people. And now Now I'm not gonna be the one to say that the UN is ushering in the age of the beast. I won't be the one to say that. However, there are definitely a lot of things popping up. And even even, I'll even bring it up right now. The Euphrates has run dry. Yeah. And and that is a big, big Bible prophecy.

 Chris Jordan 24:50

 25:32

Yes, it is.

 Chris Jordan 25:34

So let's, let's start getting back into the Scripture and back into prophecy. And some other prophecies that are there regarding the coming of the Antichrist, things like that.

 25:49

Okay, yeah. So let's, so that was the first beast or read, let's look at the second beast, and the second beast. So you can't talk about Antichrist with also without also bringing up his, the spiritual component to because the two go hand in hand. And so it's the second beast. And this is Revelation 13, beginning with verse 11. Then I saw another beast rising out of the earth, it had two horns like a lamb, and it spoke like a dragon, that exercises all authority of the first beast in its presence, and makes the earth and its inhabitants worship the first least, aka antichrist, who's mortal when was healed, it performs great signs, even making fire come down from heaven in front, to Earth, in front of people. And by the signs that it is allowed to work in the presence of the beast, that deceives those who dwell on the earth, telling them to make an image for the beast that was wounded by the sword and yet live, when it was allowed to get breast to the image of the beast, so that the image of the beast might even speak, and might cause those who would not worship the image of the beast to be slain. And it causes all both small and great, both rich and poor, both free and slave, to be marked on the right hand or the forehead, so that no one can buy or sell unless he has the mark. That is the name of the beast or the number of its name. This calls for wisdom, let the one who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, what is the number of a man and his number is 666. So I put this out there for folks. 6x x is not the number of Satan, you know, a lot of occultist like to slap 6x Six, like they're, you know, good, bad. And all I'm a big Satanists No, you know, yeah. 6x, six, correlates perfectly with Nero Caesar, however, and a lot of theologians will say, well, that's just talking about Nero. That's just, you know, he was just talking about a bad guy that lived at Ron John's time. And

 Chris Jordan 28:16

Charlotte girl is a persecutor of the Christian faith. Good stuff.

 28:22

Sure. But then in Revelation, it talks about the beast that was, which would be Nero is not because Nero is not around at the time, the writing of Revelation he had died about 40 years prior. Yeah. And then the beach that is to come. So we're given a some possibilities about the man of sin Antichrist himself, he will either be a reincarnation of Nero himself, or he will have the personality behaviors and mannerisms of Nero. Or it will be simply something, you know, a person that typifies that the same style of neuron in his approach. So there's there's some possibilities, but it does tie back to Nero. It's just a matter of, well, what's the future beast gonna look like? Yeah, well, we just look like narrow notes. And granted, this is the second reference in a row by chapter of the Beast having a healed mortal wound on it. But what does that mean exactly? Is there any deeper reference to that?

C

Chris Jordan 29:34

U

29:54

Well, theologians for a very long time have given basically one of two things The answers to that. So when and so this will open up another topic of discussion, but I'll try to aim it toward the point I'm trying to make first and then we can do the back. But the Antichrist will make a seven year peace treaty between Israel and an Arab Confederation. So that seven year peace treaty is called Daniel's 70th week from the book of Daniel, or more commonly known as the Great Tribulation, the first three and a half years of that seven year period, there will be a resemblance of world peace. That, you know, there'll be no wars, resources will be consolidated, just like a World Economic Forum is doing. That's another reform they're trying to pass is to take all of the world's resources and put it under one umbrella them and run by corporations. That can't turn out bad in the slightest, no way, you know. But that's their their game plan. They lay it all out very clearly what they plan. So there won't be, there'll be equity, not equality, equity, across the board for people, because then one group owns it, the divvied out as long as you play by the rules, you do what they say, then you have food, housing, clothing, etc. So at the midpoint, so this gets into an another big area too, of prophecy. The third Jewish Temple will be rebuilt, either before the seven year peace treaty, or as one of the requirements of the seven year peace treaty with Israel and the Muslim nations, mostly the Shiites, not the Sunnis. But the Sunnis, you know, they would have a say to. And quite honestly, if you If anyone looks at the Temple Mount, if the Third Temple was built next to the Dome of the Rock, it would be a very poetic and encouraging sign to the world, that Judaism and Islam can live in peace side by side and be this shining example of peace about mortal enemies, to two violent, violent brothers against each other, going all the way back to Isaac and Ishmael, because that's the origins of the two Yeah. living side by side, and so the Antichrist makes that happen. The, at the midpoint, Antichrist sets himself up, he walks into the Third Temple and says, I'm gone. And everyone's going to worship me. This is where it talks about that second piece, the False Prophet setting up a an idol, or an image of the beast where it can talk and answer questions. People have asked for a very long time, well, how in the heck is he going to make this weird statue and it's gonna talk? It just says an image. Look at airports in Japan, they have full blown 3d holograms that interact talk with you do the whole thing. They have other life size and bigger holograms that they will interact with. In other words in ancient Greece, man.

C

Chris Jordan 33:42

33:45

Oh, sure. Sure, sure. And they did all that stuff with the steam and everything else made it look pretty cool. Oh, yeah. Yeah. But you have to look at a lot of these things in, in just our modern thought, and how we do it in the modern era. Because they didn't have words, for a lot of the things that we have today. I mean, things just didn't exist, like they did then. So you know, St. John, he's on the island of Patmos. He sees an image. Okay. Well, the false prophets makes everyone worship this image. It's at that midpoint that the Mark of the Beast is enforced. And you either take it and submit and engage in open Luciferian worship, or you're beheaded. It's an either or the phase in part of it is done. Because the Phase One happens? Well, let's be honest, the phase is happening now. But it's already but it will continue until that midpoint of the Tribulation. If and when the Mark of the Beast is imposed, and then now you have that choice, you'll either worship this man who claims to be God, or you're going to be beheaded. And if you somehow escaped that, all they have to do is turn you off. And now, you can't get medicine for your children. You can't get clothing for your loved ones. You can't get food. You can't live in a house renting or buying. If you have debts, they can be called immediately and immediately taken out like China does already. If you I forget what it was, it was something so stupid, but it's in China right now. It's like, if you chew bubble gum, or no, no, if you smoke in a non smoking designated place, you're fined $500. And they take it immediately out of your account. There's no judge. Nope, no jury. Oh, you did that? Well, there's 500 bucks out of your account. It's the it's the exact same concept. And the World Economic Forum is basing what they plan to do on the social credit system that's currently in China. That's why China is getting all of these kickbacks. And all these Oh, isn't China wonderfully? You know, Hey, it's okay. They don't have the freedom, hey, there's so orderly and organized and blah, blah, blah. This is what's going down. And anyone can look any of this up. And that's, I mean, it's a beautiful thing. One, because it pulls it out of the realm of fringe, it pulls it out of the realm of speculation. Literally, we're living in an age where you can look at biblical prophecy, and turn on the evening news. And they go hand in hand. So no longer is this some esoteric allegory, metaphor, like a lot of theologians have done for so long with the book of Revelation. Now, it's right, it's lit. We, you, me and your listeners are living prophecy right now. And that should get people's attention. The other thing about the False Prophet is, when you read in verse 11, and 12, and 13, of chapter 13, the second beast has the horns of a lamb. So the second beast will have a significant spiritual following already to be the False Prophet. He will be, quote unquote, Christian. He'll be overseeing a very powerful demographic that is even respected amongst the other religions. For this Christian leader, quote, unquote. The false prophet looks like the lame. But he uses the words of the dragon is what he he made look holy. It may look like he's got his act together and may very well sound logical, special, great to the listeners. But the words he speaks are nothing but lies and deceptions because he speaks with the mouth of the dragon, which is Lucifer. So there's only one person one position that actually would fit with that in Judeo Christianity, and that's a pope. We've already seen the deterioration of the Roman Catholic church since the Second Vatican Council. I mean, you have some severe deteriorations within the church. I'm not saying it's Francis. It could very well be his successor, though, because Francis has laid some interesting groundwork that would make it happen including like the Pacha Mama and some other things being put on the altar of St. Peter's and blessed and everything else. And these is a pagan fertility deity. I mean, if that's not heresy, I'm not sure how one would else clarify and classify heresy. So that would be a definite Strong, probably 99% Chance candidate for who the False Prophet will be. Because they do have that bold spiritual power, but they also have a big economic base to work with. And they, they have the Knights of Malta, which are basically the Vatican spies in most of the world governments. So you got that. Then Antichrist when he comes on the scene, he'll be a big Peacemaker. He'll be, you know, this, this man that people are enamored with, they'll think, Oh, my goodness, I've never heard this man speak of such things that he can bring peace to the Middle East. He brings peace amongst other nations. He comes in the Scriptures make it clear this man is not as the scripture say, a king, but he's brought to Power BI teams. So he is kind of behind the scenes. He's He's not an elected leader. But the elected leaders of the world, push him to the forefront because he's such a master diplomat. And because he's think of him like a a peacemaker, a master planner, they love him. The people think he's the best thing since sliced bread. And he doesn't show his true nature until that midpoint of the tribulation. So up until that point, people are buying on he's he's selling the the soft selling the mark of the beast, he's soft selling the world government. He's soft selling all of this other stuff. At the midpoint, the soft sells done. And now he's like, Hey, I'm God. And also, guess what? I'm also Lucifer. Have fun with that. And you're going to worship me and if you don't buy so that's in like I said earlier, that third Jewish Temple will be rebuilt. Look up the Temple Institute dot o RG. If you do not think this third temple is ready to go had them up on screen a minute ago.

 42:15
Hey, there you go, buddy. They have all of the furniture, all the implements even a reproduction of the Ark of the Covenant ready to rock. And I saw a few years ago that they already had the Third Temple built but just in modular form, so that when they get to go ahead, they can have it built within three to six months. So that's Wow, that piece is awesome. Ready? Ready to go to literally my friends and listeners. We are living prophecy. That is zero exaggeration. All you have to do is look it up for yourself. All of the evidence, all of the game plans everything is sitting out in the open. But you will not hear the corporate media talking about any of it. Other than trying to soft sell it. So that's how that rolls. Yeah, good times. Good times ahead, y'all, you know, yeah. Yeah, I tried to smile about it. Because if I didn't, I'd be pulling out my hair and gnashing my teeth. Yeah, Audacity.

 Chris Jordan 43:29
Yeah. And you know, there's, there's a lot when it comes to this father, and granted, it might be a lot for a lot of people to swallow might be a lot for a lot of people to believe in. However, whether or not you believe in the Antichrist, what you can believe in is that the executive order that the Godfather was talking about you you that that is a real thing. You can believe in the Temple Institute, trying to rebuild the Third Temple, that is a real thing. And and they say in their documentation that they are attempting to rebuild the Third Temple to bring about the the prophecies of the Third Temple. So yeah, these things are there.

 44:30

And I will add to that, there is a theological reason behind why Iran wants to get a nuke and basically caused an Armageddon a small Armageddon, not the Armageddon but chaos is because in the Shiite Muslim belief, they believe that their Mahdi ma H di will arise, which is their Messiah will arise they Basically in the crucible of war at the end of the age, and Iran wants this Messiah to come to the forefront. Thus, they want to attack Israel. Israel is currently looking for Messiah, that the Jews as a physical King that will bring peace to the land of Israel. There is no reason not to think that the Antichrist will fulfill both roles. Being a big peacemaker, he'll be accepted by Islam as Mahdi, it will be accepted by the Jews as Messiah. And it comes together in this. You know, if God wasn't in the plan, it'd be serendipity to the ants level. But this is what this is the reality that's going on right now. The geopolitical issues in the Middle East. That's what it's all about. And if you do any research in Judaism and talk with rabbis, they will say they're on the precipice of The God May God war. Some even say that they're already in it because of the Jews in Ukraine. With Russia, you know, God may God Yep. And Israel, funding Ukraine. They, they know that the rise of Messiah is imminent. And they the even rabbis came out I think it was two years ago, saying they've already had discussions with Messiah. They're just waiting for him to come out of the wings so that the Sanhedrin can anoint him the king of Israel and bring peace. Now, if that, doesn't it, folks got to know the Sanhedrin didn't exist for almost 2000 years. Yeah, it didn't did not exist because the Jews were dispersed amongst all the nations. They Sanhedrin cease to exist in 70 ad, at the sacking of Jerusalem under Vespasian. You know, the sacking of Jerusalem. They were dispersed. After Israel became a nation in 1948, the Sanhedrin went back yet, in I think it was mid 90s. If memory serves, maybe even closer to our date than that, the Sanhedrin was reformed. They have the ashes of the red heifer to consecrate the temple now, they have all the furniture and implements. They have the oil of anointing, the special oil of anointing that the recipe was last for 2000 years. They now rediscovered it magically, they have the oil of anointing to anoint the king of Israel. Wow. It doesn't get any more real than this. Yeah, yeah. No. Oh, I guess before we let you go, father, the real question is, these are all combinations of prophecy. Typically with prophecy, there's a way out. There is a way out. What's your way out?

 Chris Jordan 47:59

 48:15

 Chris Jordan 48:20

How can I how can we 48:23

short answer? Oh, okay. The short answer is, put your faith in Christ. Because the good thing is, with all of the judgments, when you read further in Revelation, you have the trumpet judgments and the bowl judgments. And really, it revolves around a dual extinction level event, asteroid impact. When you look at the data, what it's actually talking about, is an asteroid impact. And it's no coincidence, multiple asteroids are just magically showing up at greater numbers as we go further along, than even the precursor asteroids for the big boys that are prophesied in Revelation, but for those that put their faith in Christ, the Scripture tells us tells us we are not under the wrath of God therefore either were taken before the that last half of the seven year period because that's when the judgments and it gets really craptacular I'll just be blunt. Yeah, it gets a little rattle happens. Yeah, well, it'll be rough. That's the easiest way I mean, sure. Absolutely.

 Chris Jordan 49:36

That's a PC way to put it.

 49:41

But I'm not very PC I'm kind of a straight shooter. But putting our faith in Christ, what a you know, one of two things will happen. Either were taken out before the wrath because in I believe it's chapter 11. It speaks about an angel Taking a second ripping the wheat off the earth, then a second angel follows. And it shoots out the wine press of the wrath of God. So believers are the wheat. I mean, that's throughout the Scripture, the symbology is tight. So that we're either taking them, or the Jews are actually given a place of safety to run, once they realize who the Antichrist is. The Old Testament calls it the pens of Basra. We understand and know it under the name, Petra, in Jordan, as the place of safety, and if memory serves Israel currently has a treaty with Jordan to go exactly there. If Israel ever needs a way to escape. Wow, wow. Yep. That's about all you can say these days. I know I've, for years, I sat here and I wondered, well, how is this all going to come together? How what will XYZ look like? Well, you know, what was this? And then these things just start dropping. And I sit back, and I'm staggered. And I'm thinking, oh, good Lord, is coming. And there's nothing anyone can do to stop it. But before I forget, you mentioned the mortal wound. Yes, it's commonly believed that the Antichrist, there will be an assassination attempt on him. You know, you'll have patriots and others that don't want to take the mark, that are gonna go after antichrist and assassinate them. But it also says, After a while, the one that's healed, comes back to life, a resurrection, if you will. And that's when everyone worships Him and thinks he's best thing since sliced bread. And they say, well, he resurrected the only one that ever did, it was Christ. So must be God. And then the game is on.

 Chris Jordan 52:09

All right. Well, hopefully we as a humanity, we as a society can curb this can recognize these things can can come to a point of understanding of all of this from from like, you were saying the the Arabic side, the the, the Jewish side, region side? Yeah. We all claim Abraham is a spiritual father at all right? So the fact that it's going to involve all three is not really rocket math. Nope. So before we let you go, let everybody know where they can go to pick up your book, walking with ghosts, where they can go to contact you. If they need a clearing of their property, if they need an exorcism, anything like that good father.

 53:09

Sure. So my regular pace Facebook page is, you know, I invite folks to always contact me send me private message or whatnot. Sometimes it takes me a little while to see him. But if we're not already friends on Facebook, but if we're not just have patience, I will answer any questions, comments or tomatoes that are thrown my way. And then, as far as the book goes on, it's on Amazon. You just type in the full title of it, it'll jump right into it. And if you want to read some of the experiences I've grown up with the UFO UAP encounters, the exorcisms, my family's history with paranormal issues. And my probably pathetic attempt to explain it all through with scripture, you know, I try my best I'm just human as anyone else. I'm not the sum total of all knowledge. But I do my best to explain step by step what each piece means.

 Chris Jordan 54:24

It is a great book and your wealth of knowledge on these topics is great. I want to thank you for always coming on sharing it. unabashedly. The truth that you have to share and such is such an incredible topic tonight. Thank you so much for your time, as always,

I had an opportunity to meet Ryan. Just a few. I'm trying to remember exactly which show it was and if I'm not mistaken. It was the Southeast Texas Bigfoot festival in Mineola. Ryan, welcome back to the show. How are you doing this evening my friend.

1:04:45

It's always a pleasure to be here.

Chris Jordan 1:04:46

Absolutely, man. We had a great time out there at the southeast Texas Bigfoot festival it was a heck of a time at Mineola. It was great meeting folks like yourself. Jason McClellan who's been on the show Since, of course seeing people like Daniel Alan Jones, always great. It was fantastic. I went out this last weekend for my birthday to visit the Wonderland UFO festival Wonderland Park in San Antonio and ran into Ryan that was like, Hey, why don't you come on the show this week? So yeah, welcome back, my friend.

1:05:29

Of course, it's always good to be in a festival I was in second convention at the ball because I knew it was kind of small things. I wasn't expecting a lot of big names. They're like,

Chris Jordan 1:05:42

Oh, well, thank you. Thank you even though even to be considered a big name Yeah, I mean, it's it's, it's one of those that it was right down the road. Daniel Allen Jones was speaking, I was really upset that I didn't get to stay for his I've got a kid. He was in tow and starting to get a little honoree after being up most of the day. So yeah, we had to scoot out a little bit early, but sounded like quite a few people made a showing. Sounded like they had a good turnout for the day. So glad to hear that for them and hope to be involved with them. Next year. I spoke with them on my way out the door to talk to him about possibly coming out and doing the live stream thing next year, all that kind of stuff. So yeah, yeah. Well, let's get into it. You are the author of the book cryptids of the world, which I happened to pick up when I was at the festival, there are Mineola. Let's start talking a little bit about the menagerie of cryptids that are around the world, specifically ones that seem to have tropes that follow across the world. Of course, there's Sasquatch, and we know that there are numerous entities of Sasquatch across the world. Or at least Sasquatch type creatures. We don't know that is Sasquatch, because well, we got to prove Sasquatch first. But let's start talking about a couple of others that are out there that kind of cross cultural barriers and cross barriers literally geographically,

1:07:27

Ryan. Yes. Like, for instance, with like Sasquatch like creatures. These are commonly just people like Dr. Boucher might call these creatures. So just really hominins like hominids because we aren't sure what these creatures are. They could do some type of other wolves. Humans like homicidal incidences, or homo erectus or they could be a derived primate like a some type of bipedal girl like gigantic Fiscus. And when you look at the sightings, you have a peculiar correlation, because you have an interesting for instance, Central America, you have a large bipedal primate, human like it's humanoid, at least pi six tonight, the tall, different hair colors, things like that. And then you have these same characteristics in across the world, you have, of course, the Getty of the Himalayas, these creatures that seem to be maybe there's this almost suborders, or you have the chilima, which is believed to be maybe five or six feet tall. Then they Elmo, which is going to be eight to almost even Trump's the tall, and you have all these different characteristics. We have, of course, that we have Australia, and China, but also you have little unknown features like now I think we realized, thanks for like creatures are supposed to be seen in Europe and the UK, you have the word or the green that matches from there. And even in Africa, there are stories out there concrete, small human like creature, maybe five to four feet tall, that's covered in hair, that even Wuhan who Western Africa, which is believed to be almost like a giant hair cut with students. And their emotions are pressures throughout multiple cultures across the world.

 Chris Jordan 1:09:29

Yeah, precisely and it's it's interesting, the fact that these sightings do occur across the world and that the descriptions not only the descriptions in recent times, but the descriptions of indigenous cultures are so similar. It's it's pretty remarkable and to think that, you know, of course, there was the you yourself are a history teacher, Ryan there, there was the idea of the lamb bridge, the lead from the Siberian Peninsula over to America. And maybe that's how, you know, the North American people came over from from that area, things like that. There are all kinds of even the even the theory of Pangea, and the fact that at one point, all of the continents were connected, and then a cataclysm drove them apart, tectonic cataclysm. So, there are a few working hypothesis out there that might explain this.

 1:10:38
However,

 Chris Jordan 1:10:40

there's more than one cryptid that crosses these geographic and cultural barriers. One example that hops to mind immediately is the chupacabra. Yeah, both of us living here in Texas, there is kind of a Texas version of the chupacabra, which is much more of a candidate like animal from what we've seen so far. And then there is the utterly unreal, and other worldly traditional Chupacabra from Puerto Rico, things like that. So let's get into that for a minute.

 1:11:29

Like what the chupacabra one thing I look at with crypto is like nomenclature. Well, how do they get to names Jeff Bokoblin smasher courses in scope Straker. And this is a point me my buddy can get him to talk about a lot. chupacabra is describing a behavior. It's not exactly describing a particular creature that just describing some type of sandpaper creature that can take words out of goats, chickens, even cattle, and usually they are sightings that correlate to these killer predation. But the description of these creatures are painted white. Of course, in 1990s, you had the sun the first to become with it, but the widow name was called the event period and local, there was a city called Mocha, or ricotta. Because we strange animal sightings were occurring, which means one will remember tropeano saw a peculiar creature walking down the street, she described a human like animal almost like kangaroo, like, with spines on its back and a either like head almost like a if you think of like beauty or like, oh, a great alien that like that's all I've had. So it's like running back and he was trying to this creature has any wings. So he has combined characteristics of different creatures. And then of course, you have here in Texas, you have what's called a textbook real talk. Back in early 2000s, when they first Canyon had a version of this creature, a hairless canine, with piercing black and even do a skin with peculiar notches on its back. And this creature supposedly said on big letters, chickens and goats and local livestock. Now, of course, with this, these claims have been well first reported, because local people started calling history Oh, it's whatever children's creature was Chupacabra, heirs to recover. Because the name was already in the cultural ideas. There's already in the nomenclature.

C

Chris Jordan 1:13:44

The sightings here in Texas originally happened right down near the border, things like that. So that that was already in the cultural memory that was already in the end, like you said in the cultural nomenclature, so it just stuck.

U

1:14:01

Yeah. And like where the script is, you have to worry about like, how is the cryptosphere intercostals Supercopa. Like I remember back when I was a child, I used to watch extra videos. And there was a I think trigger movie about the chupacabra. And they go down. You see the description. In the movie, they say, Well, it's a pig for the Mexico. And as I kept those all just we know that stay accurate, because it's been ascribing a different name for different creature. And you have to wonder how can the characteristics and behaviors that we apply to multiple creatures, right, of course that you've covered up in Puerto Rico in the 90s cannot be the same chipper Kabra seen here in Texas. Two different creatures. It's under the same name.

C

Chris Jordan 1:14:55

Yeah, yeah, exactly. And once again, the By the name The name was hijacked because of the cultural memory of similar situations. Not necessarily sighting of a similar creature, but the situation surrounding the dead chickens things like that is what culturally brought to mind. The name Chupacabra in the area, which once again, I just had up on screen, an image of the actual Chupacabra from Puerto Rico where where things started, stuff like that, where it is a bipedal creature that's almost reptilian looking things like, as opposed to the Texas Trooper Kabra. The Blue Dog, as as mentioned a little while ago, and you can see the vast, vast difference, folks, the traditional chupacabra is much more in the realm of sci fi.

1:16:03

And actually, interesting fact there are some people who either might originally from sci fi because the woman originally described this creature Madeline Tolentino. She said the day before she wants that she wants to move. And of course, species has an alien in it that's very similar to what you described. Yes. She believes she might be fear, or her just perception might be causing her to believe she saw that creature in real life, or she put those characteristics are a negative type of handle she saw.

Chris Jordan 1:16:39

Yeah. Yeah, exactly. And, you know, great movie, don't get me wrong. But we really do. And that's something that King Gearheart speaks about regularly in his talks is the hijacking of our brains by pop culture and by by subculture like that, you know, and we really do have to be careful, whenever we are witnessing things whenever we see things. I mean, I'm one that I will always say and follow that, that Carl Sagan aspect of great claims require great evidence, you know, and, and I have no problem dismissing 95% of everything. But it's that 5% Ryan, it's really out there. And, and, you know, it's one of those like a prime example, I have followed the field in the study of remote viewing for 20 years of my life. Until I went to the international remote viewing Association convention a few months ago, and interviewed like the people who founded the concept of remote viewing, every one of these dudes was a letter PhD holding physicist. So there's gotta be something to it. Either that or all these physicists are just whack jobs are more likely than yeah, there's there's nothing to it.

1:18:13

Chris Jordan 1:18:21

Yeah, yeah, precisely. You know, and yeah, it's been it's out of out of the Paris paranormal. I think that remote viewing has been the most studied, studied, as far as really, really deep research and monetary funds and government monetary funds being put into it. Now, there are there are a lot of people out there, Ryan, especially when it comes to let's let's kind of start crossing the barriers here of cryptids themselves and the paranormal and conspiracy theory. Now, I am a big proponent of cryptids, cryptid, species, things like that these exist we we discovered 500 new species gearing, a pandemic, you know, so imagine what what we actually discover every year when scientists are out in the field. So, the fact that cryptics exist, I don't think is in question, at least not for me. But what do you think of? What do you make research wise of the hypotheses of paranormal sources of cryptids? Like Chupacabra, like, big foot using portals, things like that. Where do you where do you come down on that? On that topic, because there's there's a lot of crossover between Those communities, you know, and there's a lot of people who vehemently believe one way or the other.

1:20:06

 1:20:00

What me, I come as early as cryptozoology, we have a much a ecological, biological geological perspective, I believe Whoa, these 70 to 80% of these creatures are evolved and have adapted are truly physical creatures, but other percent that other 15 to 20% that you have to worry about. And that is what I like to call will pair cryptozoology. The more outlandish creatures I feed around the world. Like, say, for instance, like Goat Man or dog ran or flying humanoids, these creatures are describing your behavior or morphological details that do not have precedence put in the natural world. Like with Goat Man, we wanted to create bipedal under it. And with a glide enroller tree, you don't see vertebrates with six limbs that they had to it's an illogical description from insects. So with these features, I wonder if they always some type of other origin. What that origin is, I am not sure, it could be something paranormal, extraterrestrial, from other dimension, other plane of reality, what it is, I'm not sure that if I like that it goes. But the rest of these creatures, I believe, have a precedent within the natural world and all our push stroke survivors from the age and this have been able to fit into the modern times.

 Chris Jordan 1:21:48

And that's a that's a really, really great way to put that. Especially whenever you look at ethno cryptozoology, whenever you start looking at creatures that had been had been spoken about, by cultures for hundreds, sometimes 1000s of years. You know, the stories of I mean, prime example is the Aborigines in Australia, they probably have the longest unbroken oral tradition in humanity. Yeah. And they, they've spoken about the Yahweh since the beginning. You know, when when you go to the American Southwest, the stories of the giants that live in the caves, the ant men, things like that. Even Skinwalker, that kind of stuff. These are stories that have been with them for hundreds and hundreds of years. And we're just now shipping to them, so to speak.

 1:23:04

Yeah, it's like the Aborigines that used like, their whole history goes far back that they reference creatures that aren't even in existence anymore. They talk about the Thylacine Antichrist trial as long as possible out there that went extinct during the Pleistocene. They will reference laws go Anna like lizards, which, of course we now know, it's megalomania. So these all history and even cultural memories go back most likely to 30 to 40,000 years ago. And of course, with this, you got Woody our description, you have to wonder if they also references another crucial creature. Then you can always like, battle Rick's knees here in North America, the North American First Nations that sometimes they describe prehistoric creatures. Medication of stiff legged fever, which they describe a creature with. That was giant goo, a really stiff leg, a thick body and a weird little thing that came out of its head. And with two giant horns, I came out of that space. Referencing is a mastodon, all madness. And you have to wonder, how are these people? How are they having cultural memory that can go back 10s of 1000s of years, and it's still crashing into the modern day? Yeah. And I even would do Chippewa they even have this topic. Or like a Bigfoot.

 Chris Jordan 1:24:34

Yeah, precisely. And and even the tribes of the Congo that describe dinosaurs. You know, not not necessarily that those are cryptids are cryptid species, but they're definitely things that that people have talked about for a long, long time. You know, yeah. And like we're particularly the living Bassel phenomenon. It's very interesting because there are certain characteristics that show what you would call a cultural analysis. If you look at when the first DRPS went into Africa, and they come back with stories of like the MO came up in bed or the Toka, Congo Moto, to describing dinosaurs and what we would think about them during the Victorian era, they describe tell jacking or large, sluggish reptiles, I will just slip and swap. And now take a pay apology, we know this is inaccurate. And so Bill O'Hanlon been banned, or these other creatures describing creature really, truly never truly existed. And I even with the materials open our traditional creatures with leathery wings and almost giant like, and we now know that tarsals will cover to pick no fibers to cover these hair feathers. The wings are rounded, the crash was smaller than they were, they didn't really have large tails. But I wouldn't necessarily describe as a different creature. So all these living survivors have somehow tentacles that may have adapted evolved was 65 billion years. Or is it something else I miss identification and how, like, for instance, what I witnessed is a modern day is described by telephone and baffles are what they would have seen in Jurassic Park. And not what we now know what it looked like in the fossil record.

1:24:58

Chris Jordan 1:26:38

Yeah, yeah. And once again, we do we as people tend to, especially in a modern age tend to cross these tropes over a prime example, my son has just started being afraid. He's He's like five years old. You got to meet him the other day. He has just started being a friend and what he's afraid of, is his toys. Coming into life at night, come to find out or whatever show the Toy Story. The thing is, he's watched Toy Story since he was a kid, he's got all the Toy Story toys. That's not where it came from. There was this show, like Masha and the Bear that he found on Netflix or something like that, which is a bunch of Russian fairy tales that have been transformed into animation. wicked cool. And I found the one the other day where the little kids toys come alive at night. And you know, Hey, you want to talk about culturally like, yeah, culturally, stories and campfire stories and stories that we tell children at night are totally different. You know, so yeah, this, this trope popped into his mind. And now it's crossed over into his reality. So there's the example that I'm giving. And it's very easy for us even as grownups to do the same thing, you know, for us to see a movie and it can something that we see to it.

1:27:22

Chris Jordan 1:27:25

1:28:29

1:28:25

Yeah. Well, one thing I bring up is how does perception alter reality? But if someone has a preconceived notion of the existence of a being whether it's some type of creature or deity or in different zoom to see that creature or being what in a reality it's like a someone who's really into spiritualism or like ghosts hunting any little, it's a possibility that if they feel any breeze in a room, oh, that's ghosts. Yeah. A Bigfoot researcher if they had some type of wood found in the woods. Oh, well, they have any Yeah, I used to do some paranormal investigation. And some of the things that I see are a little iffy to me, like, I don't mind you bringing a recorder into the room. Cool. But when you go around and you start asking questions and things like that, number one, you're inviting something that maybe you shouldn't be inviting? Number two, you are setting up psychologically for the expectation to hear something afterward.

C

Chris Jordan 1:29:10

i

1:29:40

Yeah. Then that's one thing that people don't realize it's like doing expecting a response. So if you don't get a response, you're not even meaning to do it, but you'll make up a response. Yeah, that's just not as done intentionally. You're trying to hurt someone or that's how the human brain works. RT? Yeah, exactly, exactly. And it's, it's, you know, it can be a great thing. But when, when you're looking for evidence proof, it's not necessarily the best thing that you want. And, you know, that's, that's one reason why typically, you, you don't look at pictures, right after you get home from something like that you give it a day or so, you know, you might transfer footage, something like that, from your cameras or devices, but you don't start rifling through pictures, the experience is still too fresh. You know, you, you kind of have to have that separation, to where whenever you come in and you start looking at stuff, that you weren't still colored by the experience of being there.

C

Chris Jordan 1:30:01

1:30:53

Yeah, it's like, if you talk to an eyewitness of maybe like a curse that occurred. If you can get them within like, hours of their character, that's great. But with me, I was trying to talk to him a couple days later, like, Okay, what do you think he saw now and see if that even a drill and in the body can also what they saw? Oh, that you're called humans? We always like What size are they that it's either summation or SQL or trade observer. And a lot, many times face to fear, we make something that's six feet tall, eight feet tall, or something that's five feet tall, jumper tall. how our brains work?

C

Chris Jordan 1:31:35

Yes, especially with that nearby frame of reference or anything like that. It can be it can be hard to make those associations and to remember those details, especially in an adrenalized moment. And that is something that we have talked about regularly on this show, whether it's UFO experience, paranormal experience, what have you. That is that is a a stealing moment. And one of those moments that a lot of people are like, Oh, why don't we have good pictures of Bigfoot? Well, you may be so so into the experience or so wowed by the experience or even a UFO or a spirit or an orb or whatever, that you may not even have the presence of mind to grab your phone and turn on a camera here, you know, you may just be so jaw dropped and odd that you can't move. Some people, some people akin it to just be being frozen in fear, even though they're not afraid.

 1:32:51

Yes. Actually, that happened to me recently. I was here in town at that Tonio and I noticed one night I was waiting for my cousin at like a hotel for my dad and two or three coyotes across the street in front of me in this little town. And I was shocked because I was like out of cats voters away they're gonna catch the coyotes and I laid on the table because I shouldn't say the picture. I shouldn't tell you the picture. So I have evidence I just saw the coyote middle of town you know, have their frame of reference when that occurred happening in the moment. Yeah, you're not thinking about your camera phone or something like that even even though your camera is literally on your phone. You don't think about it?

 Chris Jordan 1:33:38

Yeah, yeah, precisely. You get you get wrapped up in it and it's kind of the almost almost the same effect that happens whenever you are in such a familiar Liga like whenever you're driving home and you're just in a zone you know, a lot of the times it's the same thing as that where you're almost in a hypnotic state because you're just so wowed by it, so it'll be interesting. What do you think it will take Ryan for? I guess for cryptids to be accepted by mainstream will be deleted hopefully. Doesn't have a lot of cryptid there has been plenty in the past. The whole Sasquatch or something like there and, or Thunderbirds hoping maybe with one discovery people will realize, okay, if this one cryptid one Lodge, unknown primate or bird or sea creature, what else could there be? For me, I believe there's a lot of cultural changes that will have to occur we're losing you a little bit there, but you're here. Yeah, there we go.

 1:34:31

 Chris Jordan 1:35:12

 1:35:20

Gotcha. So there's people wouldn't academia that will always say, well, there's no such thing as placement as Oh, such thing as your friends. There's no such thing as ghosts because they're paradise enough in shifts. There has to be a shift to their ideas and how people take evidence, when in the future, the hope is make decisions and for innovation. So what happened one day, especially expose people not to see it, it's just a paranormal research on the 14, paranormal study. It should be classified as a dual logical study. Because a lot of people in this field use field research that has been vetted by experts to zoological biological studies, DNA evidence, evidence that true, real quote unquote, true scientists with you. So as we can see cryptozoology a different aspect of maybe do ology they don't like the first step to a discovery of a creature, then maybe it will just be a hopefully, viewpoint and vision. I'll apologize it deserved. Because of course, when you say I'm okay, I'm okay with like the UFO phenomena and paranormal and all that. But sometimes it can muddy up the waters, especially with research like cryptozoology. Absolutely. You have, you have the people that are like, Oh, we haven't discovered people yet. Oh, so you from yourself, or as we've heard, it's like you're trying to solve one issue or another? And you can't get any answers with that type of viewpoint?

 Chris Jordan 1:37:07

Well, yeah, yeah. I mean, it really is the fact of, if you're trying to do scientific research, scientific study, you really do need to get that there's white light, which is great. And then there's laser light. Where all those same spectrums are focused into one beam. It's very intense, you tend to get on with one. So yeah, a shotgun approach to research does not help things. And like you said, there's, there's nothing against anybody, I have nothing against anyone who holds the belief of paranormal and cryptids. Together tied to guy, I got no problem with it. But when you're talking about research, when you're talking about trying to get ethno zoo ologists, things like that involved. You're biologists, people who study animal strides, that kind of stuff. You gotta let all that go by the wayside, and you gotta be able to just let them live in the world that they are comfortable in, and hopefully make the discoveries that we need, you know, and yeah, I think, much like you were saying some of this other can be very distractive to the cause, sometimes. Yes, that's like, I won't say.

 1:38:36

 Chris Jordan 1:38:42

But distractive.

 1:38:44

Yeah. I love to share information and new brand new perspectives. Sometimes, if you add too many perspectives, the first one to say when that might be true, can get muddied up. And even like, how I always put it, PhD or doctorate Professor probably won't get into like cryptozoology while people are saying, because for me, I tried to find a lucky that we got to talk talked about which have been in this field in the first place, because that's someone that was able to analyze the evidence. They come at it from a scientific perspective, because I believe this discovery or these creatures would have to come from science, not from some type of belief set or Telmo will study this from the biological sciences. Yeah, and I believes like with cryptozoology, especially, you need that type of background. Well, not necessarily they need it but very, very helpful to know how to collect evidence you know how to look for look for like, What could this creature be like? For instance, when myself with every cryptid I research, I don't come in I don't like okay, this here's some sightings. Here's some possible track five, okay, what is what's next? I come out of fillet. Okay, this is a creature that had to come from somewhere. Every animal you look around view, has a natural history, it's morphology, its behavior, its ecology all originated from something. So I believe the same thing should be applied to these cryptids whether it's a flight or Thunderbirds, or even the dog miles per hour, they have to be here for a reason. And if they aren't, they will be extinct. So as they don't fit in the worldview, ecology and geology, they have to come from some other origin, whether this is paranormal or genetic manipulation, we aren't for sure. But every cryptid should have some type of origin, because that's how natural species work. And if they don't, it's just a show a more of a natural species a more paranormal or ultra, ultra normal creature. Yeah, yeah. Something beyond what we know. And granted, there have there have been numerous discoveries. To that end, there were the the, the pygmy deer that were found in Vietnam, about a decade ago by researchers that local indigenous people had been talking about and telling them about finally found. So yeah, I don't put it past science to be able to find these things. I think I think what it comes down to Ryan, is that yes, number one, we need to be able to provide to science, those of us that are out there, gathering data, those those groups that are out doing Sasquatch hunts, that kind of stuff, don't just go out willy nilly in the woods, find out how a biologist goes about collecting samples, you know, stuff like that. And I guarantee you that if biologists start seeking out local, even even bear biologists, things like that, like it would behoove you to contact your local skywatchers. Because guaranteed they've got trail cams that they can give you pictures from. Yeah. The cooperation between the two could really be great and vast and would expand even the scientific network of what is available rapidly.

1:42:59

Yes, I think I heard a story from somewhere in East Texas, that a Bigfoot researcher went to a local law just saying, Hey, I got this weird photo. And of course, it wasn't a Bigfoot is actually a bear. Like we thought he was supposed to be found in this area. And of course, that kicks off a whole other thing. That's illogical, but it's zoological. And it helps add well as a logic bear species can be not be seen here. And we know they live here. That's locals. Nobody lives here. But the locals loggers are willing to say they do. What else could be out here?

C

Chris Jordan 1:43:35

Yeah. Yeah, precisely. I mean, it opens up a whole conversation like that, as well as conversations of preservation, things like that. You know, it's it's only through discovery that we ended up preserving things. So yeah, yeah, we really do have to, I think focus on that end, once again, find find out how to forensic ly handle evidence, you know, because it's great to bring in like, Hey, Doc, here's a, here's a ziploc baggie with some stuff in it. Well, did you treat it properly between point A and B? Was it stored at proper temperatures? You know, how do you go about storing samples like that? To make sure that they aren't destroyed? That kind of scenario? So like, I go ahead, but I'm trying to, like I'm trying to remember I think it was, it was like one of those kind of game show like, shows up on the come out network years and years ago, I think it was about like trying to discover Bigfoot, and it was like a cash or cash prize, you're able to find Sasquatch, and a part of that game, like the show was collecting evidence correctly. Like for instance, a lot of people and they collect hair samples they don't wear like gloves. are masks because all of that is trace DNA. Yep. Any type of DNA put on, like hair sample totally ruined.

 1:44:32

 Chris Jordan 1:45:08

Yeah. Yeah.

 1:45:11

samples in order. And this is things are very important to skill because proper collection of evidence were only put, keep this field stagnant. Like how many? Like how many these fake split hairs come back as human just because of pop pop of possible? Cause can cause cross recombination?

 Chris Jordan 1:45:36

Yeah, yeah, cross contamination is is huge, huge, huge in samples, and in laboratory work. So, when you're talking about bringing things in from the wild, you, you really do have to watch what you're using to preserve it and how you're preserving it. And are you treating it forensically? Are you? Are you gathering the proper field data as far as GPS location, you know, time of day, things like that. So look into how scientists keep field journals, things like that, so that when you bring it to them, it's as complete as possible on their end, you know?

 1:46:25

Yeah, like the collection of evidence. But yeah, just data, the collecting of data is very important, because, but having large data sets, you can see things like patterns of sightings or patterns of vacation locations where you stay with the same area or like, seasonal. Like I remember, a couple of years back, there was a study in the Rocky Mountains that showed that the Sasquatch sightings were changed in elevation seasonally. Dance automatically implies that there's some type of physical creature behind this because I don't think what else I don't know, of a geophone migrate between elevation.

 Chris Jordan 1:47:02

Yeah, yeah, precisely. It's it's pretty phenomenal to see some of the research that is going on now. To see once again, the the larger names in science that have come forward, not only in UAP UFO research recently, but in in the world of cryptid research and in the world of Bigfoot research, stuff like that there is there is really some new eyes, starting to look at old evidence. So it's really fantastic.

 1:47:39

Yeah, thanks, Rob. I always say to those that have evidence and old or new, or old evidence doesn't mean new eyes upon it, because you bring in a different paradigm, a progressive perspective. Yeah. And maybe the older generation by have not have seen.

 Chris Jordan 1:47:57

Yep. Yeah, precisely. And, you know, One prime example of that is the Patterson Gimlin film that has still to this day stood the test of any analysis, as far as being faked, or anything like that, so far as they can tell as of right now. It is it is a genuine piece of footage. Yeah. So yeah, pretty, pretty phenomenal. And every time that like new video technology comes out new, you know, stride and gate measurement, technology, all that kind of stuff. It's applied, and it only seems to strengthen the case. If every time someone's always like, Oh, I'm gonna disprove it, and well, no, they they never really do. So. Yeah. Pretty interesting.

 1:48:56

Go ahead, go ahead. Yeah, I was gonna say like, it's funny, especially with the people that tried this prove it. Again, it's like, we're not believers like Flat Earth Society try to prove go for sled totally, in the end prove that route. It's like, it's kind of like the same ideology of like, you try and disprove something, but then you just find out you're wrong. And yet,

 Chris Jordan 1:49:17

yeah, in the long run, you just ended up in routing yourself back to the actual truth of it. So yeah, it's it's pretty wild. Now, before before we get into shameless self promotion, things like that. How does your world as a teacher relate to your world of crypto zoological study?

 1:49:48

Ryan? Well, let me I try to. I try my best to keep them separated because of course, there's people here Like, Oh, you have bosses in the woods, they might see me as crazy. And it's not it's like there should be a teacher but what I do is mostly I try to show them that there is science within cryptozoology. Of course, there is a pseudo science word around to cryptozoology and I'll admit that myself, but I talk about the other sciences they go hand in hand with it with do ology, biology, ecology, paleoanthropology, paleontology, archaeology, anthropology, and I talked about how, for instance, cryptozoology is a good introduction to chill sciences. Because we know everyone knows, small children they love, okay, monster story and dinosaurs, things like that. And if you could introduce cryptozoology to them, and of course, get them hooked the hook, of course, just by seeing monsters that live in the woods, but then you can kind of go beyond that to the next step and show them, hey, these monsters out there that hurt you, and that these are creatures that can be discovered, thanks to science. And I also look at like how history and how culture has affected these animals and how I believe that their perspectives and paradigms and even religious beliefs have altered cryptozoology and the study of cryptids throughout time and how unknown species have persisted to our culture cultures for 1000s of years. But with me, I usually asked a teacher to bring in because his ology is a good introduction into science. So that's a good way to show that science land, I have all the answers, but it's a good way to get the answers. Maybe it's questions we over no world want to ask. Like, what is that? Of course, you can ask your question, but how do you get better? And it's be a fire.

 Chris Jordan 1:51:57

Yeah, yeah, absolutely. And not just science, but you know, filtering information and going through and filtering, you know, hypothesis from theorem. Things like Yeah, so like, huge a friend of mine skills. Yeah, like a friend of mine. That was an English teacher. He brought me in one day for argumentative texts. Because of course, because there's a lot of the A lot of it's argumentative. You have to be able to try to persuade people into your beliefs and not just beliefs into like knowledge using like, okay, pathos, ethos, logos, you have to use logic, of course, you use scientific methods. For those, you might have to use an emotional response, usually with eyewitnesses, but also you just use like, your your name as like, okay, no, I've been in their school for so long in law for this long. And we know we're talking about. So I tried to bring in like their study into like, almost every, every curriculum I can teach about, especially, especially science, history, and English.

 1:52:12

 Chris Jordan 1:53:00

Wow, absolutely, man. And I love nothing more than knowing that educators, people like that are out there talking about topics like this with the upcoming generation of students, because it really is that keeping an open mind and that willingness to explore a topic. It's kind of kind of like it's sad to see how many schools no longer have a debate team. Yeah,

 1:53:32

 Chris Jordan 1:53:34

you know, because there there is an art to debate team. And there is an art to debate and the you know, because there there is an art to debate learn. And there is an art to debate and the idea is taking in information, filtering it and being able to use it rapidly. And that is a lost and gentle art. And to know that you're still helping kids learn those metal methods of critical thinking, Ryan, that you're still out there. Introducing these topics to the next generation. It's fantastic to hear man.

1:54:09

Thank you. Because like with me, I try to bring it in because that's gonna be like teaching moment. They okay, like, if someone hasn't given opinion, then you it doesn't matter. It doesn't matter. Like okay, you think someone's wrong, just because every different opinion, you never know you're gonna be wrong. See how you can find the common ground and come to different perspectives and look to the world with someone else's eyes. And the clickers lousy, even though it's a good offense can help can help with that help. Analyzing evidence and analyzing police and maybe even changing your own paradigm. With me an open mind. Yes or no? The mind is very important to this world. Do you have to come into this role would open the line and not be close minded because then why even learn and be educated in the first part? Yeah, yeah, Precisely, precisely. It is such a necessary part of actual conversation and and to growing humanity as we know it. Thank you so much for keeping that alive, Ryan. It really is an important skill that all too often is not utilized by people. So, so frequently. People People want to turn a paradigm into their own instead of appreciating a paradigm for what it is, you know? Yeah. Take over. Yeah, yeah, most definitely. And your book cryptids of the world is great. I've read it at least a couple times, since I got it from you. That is a super easy and great read. If you're a traveler like me, great airplane, great airport read. You can pick it up@amazon.com. Ryan, tell everybody where they can go to follow you where they can keep up with the latest and greatest where they can find out about upcoming appearances, book signings, things like that. Of course, with me, I tried to as many events as I can. The most recent one is gonna be coming up is October, and it's absent BitQuick Research Conference here in Texas. In Texas. That's a great event. I'm going to be a vendor there, I hope to restrict it at one day, the future W great thing to do and maybe 1020 years, but no time soon. But I've been there day, if you want to go talk to me in person, like that's a great thing to do. Pick up my book there. I also have a podcast called Nichols on YouTube. And if you look me up there, I try to release an episode every Saturday at 7pm. And what it is, it's a live show work because I want to try to have a chat chat going so I can talk to people in person because there's been times that people go in and talk to me about eyewitness accounts. As I was trying to talk to them like, Hey, you sent me an email later today. And I want to try to talk to you. If you guys are interested in trying to talk to me other than down to Facebook. If you look me up on Facebook as wine Edwards, I'll most likely see within the first week or so up. I'll try the Instagram or Edwards at crypto 25. All that it will be also linked at my YouTube account. Have a website because the clinical is not that there you have a direct link to my podcast and a direct link to my book. My book you can pick it up @amazon.com Barnes and Noble Half Price Books, most places where books are sold. So to me ways you guys can reach out to me. I love Concord eyewitnesses, fellow researchers are interested in talking and having discussions. So please reach out, guys.

Chris Jordan 1:55:08

1:56:19
